Live Edge tables are cross-sawn from a whole tree trunk. The longest outside edges are still covered in bark, hence the name Live Edge. Freed from traditional plank construction, these tables exhibit a richness of grain and color that bring joy to the heart of real wood enthusiasts. Live Edge tables are made from 2" thick slabs of Walnut, Cherry, Oregon Myrtle and Padauk, an African wood with a fascinating reddish color. The live edge tables bring a new dimension to interiors that embrace the warmth and authenticity of real wood furniture.

A big part of their appeal lies in the totally unique look exhibited by every individual table. Since no two trees are exactly alike, no tables made from full cross-cut slabs show the exact same grain pattern, color or shape. Each is totally unique and surprisingly harmonious with a wide range of design schemes. The process starts with your needs; size, color, shape. Then images of available slabs are sent for you to select from. Pricing is then calculated using the exact slab selected.
